

To Whom it may concern

Angelo Tassone, owner of Midas Construction has done various improvement and additions to my house over the years. Lately he has installed a new kitchen and also made some significant alterations to my living room. He has extraordinary visual imagination. In fact he has opened up all of my living space, so it now looks much bigger, more modern and totally up to date. He uses the best of materials, and his crew of sub-contractors are very reliable, easy and pleasant to deal with, as is Angelo himself. I have no reservations recommending Angelo as a totally personable, professional and honest person to deal with.

Yours truly Inge Worthington
