To whom it may concern:

In the past few years, I have engaged Midas Construction Inc. for various alterations and upgrades to my property. Each task has been carried out by experienced tradesmen who provided excellent results.

Angelo was intuitive and helpful, not only with the best way to deal with some plumbing and spacing issues, but also with the choice of some finishing materials for my totally renovated basement bathroom. Such a small room could not accommodate more than one crew at a time, so scheduling was critical. Everyone showed up when expected and always left the area clean.

New fencing and lawn have really improved the appearance of the property, work again provided by Angelo's crew. The preparation stage of these projects is pretty labour intensive and time consuming. The three men who worked on this and several other areas are extremely capable, considerate and courteous.

The new paint job on the house and garage exteriors has really brightened the place. The painters provided by Midas Construction Inc. took obvious pride in their work, meticulously preparing surfaces and having repairs made to damaged areas. The result is a testament to their diligence.

I would not hesitate to recommend Midas Construction Inc. to anyone looking for an honest, reliable contractor. In fact, I have done so already. We have all heard 'horror stories' about some renovation jobs gone terribly wrong. My experience with Angelo and his team assures me that I won't be telling one of those stories.
